Okanogan WA 98840

Attn.: Ben Rough, Senior Planner

Perry Huston, Director of Planning and Development for Okanogan County

I work in the wireless internet industry. I receive calls everyday from people wanting to know what they can do to get internet to their home or place of business. The problem is that not everyone's home and business is in town or a central location.

People are moving to this great county to "Live in the Country". They are living farther from town and Out in the Sticks because that is why they are here.

This means also that there job or business is in the Seattle area or all over the world.

They move here for the quite and solitude, but need the Internet services to do that.

The proposed changes to The Zoning Codes regarding towers would help this process a great deal.

I request that these changes be put in place to help everyone in this Great County we call home.
